

Dear Friend,

Nine years of NDP-Liberal government in Ottawa have wreaked havoc on Canada. And with each passing year, Justin Trudeau and his NDP enablers bring in another budget that leads our country closer to the breaking point.

Struggling families can't afford higher taxes and more inflationary spending that drives up the cost of everything and keeps interest rates high. That is why Common-Sense Conservatives sent a letter to Justin Trudeau with three demands to fix the budget:

1. AXE THE TAX on farmers and food by immediately passing Bill C-234 in its original form.
2. BUILD THE HOMES, not bureaucracy, by requiring cities to permit 15% more home building each year as a condition for receiving federal infrastructure money.

3. CAP THE SPENDING with a dollar-for-dollar rule to bring down interest rates and inflation. The government must find a dollar in savings for every new dollar of spending.

Justin Trudeau refused to listen. And the result is the Budget that the NDP-Liberal government delivered just a few short weeks ago.

A Budget that is just more of the same that broke our country in the first place.

Common-Sense Conservatives will not support this runaway train of a budget, nor will we support this NDP-Liberal Government that has broken our country.

Pierre Poilievre and the Common Sense Conservatives

The truth is that budgeting by Justin Trudeau is like pressing the accelerator on a runaway train. None of their budgets stopped the inflationary deficits that are driving up interest rates. And their budgets keep further endangering our social programs and jobs by adding more and more debt. And frankly, they will not stop until Pierre Poilievre and Common Sense Conservatives are able to start governing, stop that train, and turn it around.

Justin Trudeau and his costly NDP partners are not worth the cost for any generation. Their government has doubled rent, mortgage payments and down payments. Their record deficits have driven interest rates sky-high. Food banks received a record two million visits in a single month last year, with a million additional people expected in 2024.

While life has gotten worse for Canadians, the NDP-Liberal's are spending more than ever before. This year's budget will include nearly $40 billion in new inflationary spending. Former Liberal Governor of the Bank of Canada, David Dodge, said that this budget is the worst budget since 1982.

This year, Canada will spend $54.1 billion to service the NDP-Liberal debt. This is more money than the government is sending the provinces for health care. Both the Bank of Canada and former Liberal Finance Minister, John Manley, told Trudeau that he was pressing on the inflationary gas pedal with his spending that ballooned interest rates.

But Trudeau didn't listen. As a result, the Bank of Canada went on the most aggressive interest rate hike campaign in its history. As millions of Canadians renewing their mortgages know, the NDP-Liberal Government simply isn't worth the cost.

Sincerely,
Brad Redekopp
